gin blossoms

In the late 80's, Gin Blossoms started to grow a huge following as the #1 local music draw in Phoenix and certainly were the hometown heroes of their favorite hang, Tempe, Arizona. Gin Blossoms indelible jangle-pop sound was evolving during radio's diverse mix of hair bands and grunge music superstars.

Their breakout record New Miserable Experience was where their rise to fame began. This album kept the band on the chart for almost three years with singles "Hey Jealousy," "Allison Road," "Until I Fall Away," "Mrs. Rita," and "Found Out About You." The crossover hits on New Miserable Experience played on four radio formats and, to date, have sold over five million records.

June 14th - Gin Blossoms Concert

With special guest, Josh Joplin Group

Josh Joplin made his debut at an early age with Josh Joplin Group's album, Useful Music. It scored a #1 hit with Camera One and was produced by famed Talking Head, Jerry Harrison. The song has been featured in many television shows, including Scrubs.

Josh Joplin Group, has become a collection of musicians that have been with Josh his whole career, since his early days as a teenager in Atlanta, GA, playing the Trackside Tavern to touring the globe with everyone from A Fine Frenzy, to Ol 97's, Matthew Sweet, Phish, Travis and Lisa Loeb to name a few.

10,000 Maniacs

August 9th

Together now for more than four decades, 10,000 Maniacs remain one of America's most beloved independent bands. They've been cult heroes, mainstream stars and alt-rock trailblazers. Through it all the creative core of the band remains, along with its trademarks of eclectic music and poetic lyrics.

10,000 Maniacs is the most famous musical progeny of Jamestown, New York, the city that spawned them back in 1981. They performed at President Clinton's inaugural ball in 1992 and around that time became one of the first bands to score a hit from MTV's Unplugged--namely their version of the Patti Smith/Bruce Springsteen classic "Because the Night."

August 9th - 10,000 Maniacs Concert With special guest, The Judies

Formed in Atlanta in 2005, The Judies quickly became a vibrant force in the city's rock scene. Fronted by the charismatic Warren Ullom, the band's sound is a dynamic fusion reminiscent of the glam rock flair of David Bowie, the piano-driven melodies of Elton John, and the edgy modernity of The Strokes.

Their self-titled album, released in 2010, showcases this eclectic blend, featuring tracks that traverse genres from jazz and rock to pop and ska. Critics have lauded their music as "flamboyant to the core," with Ullom's personal and metaphorical lyrics resonating deeply with audiences.

Rosser

Atlanta's finest Alt-Wave band since 2016, ROSSER provides a tight mesh of 80s, 90s, and current styles blended into something new in all the right ways.

Some say Alt-Rock, some say Power Pop. Many jump directly to a reference to The Cars, then have to think a little harder when they get deeper into the set.

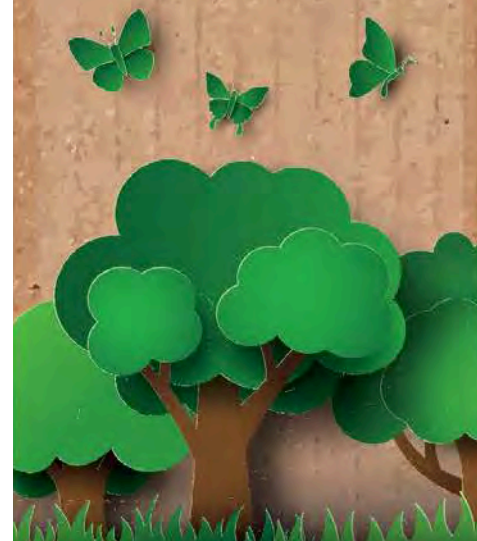

All together, a ROSSER show feels exactly like it should... A comprehensive journey, each song standing on it's own, but together forming an experience greater than the sum of its parts. The kind of song list you'd want to stream while on a drive, with your arm out the window, either heading for a night out or heading home from one.
