WOODSTOCK SUMMER CONCERT SERIES LINEUP ANNOUNCED AT 2026 STATE OF THE CITY

WOODSTOCK, GA (January 30, 2026) – Woodstock Mayor Michael Caldwell announced the lineup of the Woodstock Summer Concert Series as part of his 2026 State of the City address Friday, January 30 at Woodstock City Church.

“What started as a modest show under the stars by the gazebo 27 years ago has grown into the largest free concert series in the south, and 2025’s shows broke all of our records,” said Mayor Caldwell. “Our largest show last year delivered more than 16,400 attendees, roughly half of the population of our city, to an amphitheater covering roughly two and a half acres. This is a city that knows how to play.”

On Saturday, May 9th, Black Jacket Symphony returns to the Northside Hospital Cherokee Amphitheater to open the 2026 season presenting Bon Jovi’s Slippery When Wet and other hits. On June 13th, Grammy, ACM, CMA and CMT award-winning country star Carly Pearce takes the stage to share her authentic storytelling and powerhouse vocals. At the third concert in the series on July 11th, legendary R&B and funk powerhouse Midnight Star will captivate downtown Woodstock with their signature blend of infectious grooves and soulful melodies. On August 8th, the Pop 2000 Tour with Chris Kirkpatrick of NSYNC, O-Town, and LFO will bring you right back to the early 2000s. For the final show of the season on September 12th, electrifying Elton John and Billy Joel tribute band Face 2 Face will pay homage to the two iconic piano legends.

“From classic rock anthems to country royalty and the best party music of the last three decades, this is going to be the biggest season yet,” said Mayor Caldwell.

The Woodstock Summer Concert Series is one of the Southeast’s premier live music events, offering unforgettable performances in the heart of downtown Woodstock. What began as a handful of shows at the city gazebo has grown into the largest free concert series in the region, drawing thousands of fans to the Northside Hospital-Cherokee Amphitheater each season. Featuring nationally recognized artists across a variety of genres, the series delivers world-class entertainment in a vibrant, family-friendly atmosphere that truly embodies the spirit of Woodstock.
